DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-82 are pending in this application and subject to the following restriction requirement.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-31, 33-50 and 79, drawn to a method of identifying a protein or substrate from a pool of candidate proteins or substrates using an enzyme assisted chemically induced dimerization system, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- II. Claim 32, drawn to a protein cloned by the method of Group I, classified in class 530, subclass 350.
- III. Claims 51-78, drawn to a transgenic cell, classified in class 435, subclass 325.
- IV. Claims 80-82, drawn to a small molecule, classified in class 514, subclass 251.

The inventions are distinct each from the other because of the following reasons:

The products of Group II and the methods of Group I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown:

(1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the protein can be made synthetically.

The products of Group III and the methods of Group I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the transgenic cell can be used to produce a protein such as an enzyme or a receptor domain.

The products of Group IV and the methods of Group I are related as product and process of use. In the instant case, the small molecules of Group IV can be used to bind to cellular receptors to induce signaling pathways.

The protein of Group II, the transgenic cells of Group III and the small molecule of Group IV are distinct both physically and functionally from one another and therefore have different modes of operation, different functions and different effects. Therefore, the inventions of the different groups are capable of supporting separate patents.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provision of MPEP 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable produce will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendment submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirements for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 USC 101, 101, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See “Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claim in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 USC 103(b),” 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 USC 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP 804.01.

The searches required for the different groups are not coextensive. These inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art, Group I (435/6) versus Group II (530/350) versus Group III (514/325) versus Group IV (514/251). Therefore, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon cancellation of claims to a non-elected inventions, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
